World market Data you can rely on

Reliable, accurate and timely information is vital to any investor.

Paritech understands the importance of fast, reliable and accurate data.

As the largest end of day data vendor in Australia, data is delivered to you via the Internet in minutes.

Using Paritech's DataDirector, data is automatically distributed for a number of formats including MetaStock, CSV and ASCII. Data can also be provided in text format so that you can easily import into your preferred software package.

All prices of the data provided to you are carefully checked and any errors or omissions are corrected.

Historical data is accessible to you and extends back 12 years where available. However, there are some blue-chip companies and indices that provide historical information as far back as 1981. The historical data is also available to be provided to you in a number of formats.
